

PROLOGUE

This publication titled “Abstract of the papers to be presented in the session 2015” is being published in line with the international practice. In PEC from 1912 to 1946, the proceeding papers used to be introduced / presented by the authors during the session and discussed by participants. The discussions were recorded and the papers were then published along with the discussion and closing remarks by the author.

After 1947, this practice was ignored by default and discussions were not made part of the publication of session papers.

The publication committee discussed the issue and decided that the old pre-independence practice be revived and the papers should be printed / published with toe discussion.

Rapporteurs appointed for taking notes of important discussions will record the discussions during presentations and provide to the congress secretariat for publishing.
